

Weddar® Releases Android App

Weddar®, the first people powered weather service, releases an Android version.

Lisbon, Portugal - October 18th, 2011 - Weddar®, the first people powered weather service, available in the Apple® iTunes® App Store, is now available at the Android Market.

After countless requests for an Android version, Weddar® for Android was released today.

The Weddar team spent an incredible amount of time working on the user experience aspect of the app, so that it feels "just right" to all Android users, and not just a copy of the iOS version. Weddar® for Android was built from the ground up, using native services to make it as responsive and fast as we could.

Weddar Android users will be joining a fast-growing community of more than 31.000 Weddar Reporters in 92 countries around the world, with over 300.000 Reports made in the last few months on 7.000 locations.

About Weddar

Weddar is the new people powered weather service.

In Weddar you have real people reporting on how the weather feels, not machines.

Instead of the usual, broad and generalist "New York, 93° f, 73% humidity, NE light wind." weather reports, in Weddar, someone, somewhere in Central Park will tell you that the weather "Feels perfect.", another one near the river will tell you that "Feels good but windy", because weather conditions really are different in a same city.

Pricing & Availability

Weddar is a free application for Android and iOS, and you can download it now at the Android Market and Apple's App Store. You can also access www.weddar.com for more information.
