

Weddar reinvents Weather Report Services

Weddar is the new people powered weather service.

Lisbon, Portugal - April 25, 2011 - Weddar®, the new people powered weather service is available at Apple® iTunes® App Store.

With Weddar for iPhone® and iPod Touch®, you can check & report how the weather feels anywhere in the world. The Weddar community will let you know how they feel about the weather. If there aren't any reports on a specific place you like or intend to go, you can even request a weddar report for it and the community will answer it.

Instead of the usual machine-based weather reports telling you "New York, 96 Degrees, NE Wind, 80% humidity", in Weddar you have real people letting you know that "It feels great." while resting from a jogging session inside Central Park, or "It feels good but windy" near the river.

With Weddar you can:

- . Easily login using your Facebook or Twitter account.
- . Check real people reports anywhere in the world.
- . Report how the weather feels for you.
- . Share those reports with your friends on Facebook and Twitter.
- . Request weather reports for places where traditional weather services won't help you

Weather Reports become social with Weddar.
Anyone can be a Weather Reporter now.
